Wasps Drive Bees from Home.

A singular buttle was witnessed recently in an English apiary. A hive of bees was besieged by a large swarm of wasps. The bees made valuant sortles to try to drive away its besiegers, and the wasps made furious asaults to drive out the bees. The battle raged for two days, at the end of which time the bees evacuated the hive and the wasps took possession.

INCREASE IN SUICIDES.

Self Destruction Growing More Common to the Whole Civilized World.

The decay of religious sentimentof orthodox belief, says the Medical Record, is an important factor in the increase of self-murder is demonstrated in great cities like Paris, Berlin and Vienna, where agnosticism is rampant and the greatest number of suicides occur. Dr. Ireland traces the greater portion of the causes of suicide to severe strain upon the nervous system which may be the outcome of a multiplicity of causes. Among these causes may be mentioned the increased strain of modern life upon the nervous system. The following are the mean annual rates. per 1,000,000 population of some of the European countries: Saxony, 1861-70, suicides, 281; 1871-1880, suicides, 325; 1881-84, suicides, 370; 1885-88, suicides, 223. In Denmark during the same periods, 283, 266, 249, 259. In France, 129, 161, 189, 212. In Prussia, 127, 153, 198, In Belgium, 61, 81, 107, 116. In Sweden, 80, 86, 96, 110. In England and Wales, 66, 70, 74, 78, In Norway 82, 70, 68, 66. Italy, 27, 37, 37, 48, 48. It will be observed that with the exception of Norway the suicide mortality rate has increased, and in most countries very considerably within recent years, The diminution in Norway is attributed, says the Nineteenth Century Review, to the energetic attack which the Norwegian government has made on alcoholism. The same journal says that, in the case of Italy particularly, emigration accounts to some extent for the low rate prevalling there. It is evident that emigration provides an outlet for a great deal of misery and constitutes a hopeful alternative to sul-

The rate of suicide mortality in the United States is one in 35,000. Dr. D. R. Dewey finds that in the New England states since 1860 suicide has increased about 35 per cent. In Massachusetts it has increased in 30 years, 1860-90, from 70 to 90 to the million living, and in Connecticut from 61 to 103 per million, A steady increase of self-destruction is common to the whole civilized world.

SUPERSTITIOUS WOMEN.

There Are Many Who Place a Great Deal of Confidence in Dreams.

It doesn't seem possible that in this enlightened age superstition could be rife among the educated, but there are, nevertheless, a number of young women who converse fluently if not cloquently in three languages, and who read Spencer and Browning and Emerson, but who place a dreambook with their Bible on the table beside the bed and consult it in the morning the first thing, says the Baltimore News.

The up shot of it was that the pretty girl and I were actually the only passengers on board. She had come from a small town in interior Pennsylvania, and, like myself, had heard nothing of the smallpox scare, but fortunately she had plenty of common sense and wasn't in the least alarmed.

"At dinner that evening the captain met us at his table in the big, echoing saloon and put us at once at our ease.
